1. Introduction and Scope

The Promotion of Access to Information Act (“PAIA”) gives effect to the Constitutional right of individuals to access to information held by a public or private body, if the information is required for the exercise or the protection of any rights.

Where a request for information is made, there is an obligation to provide the information, except where PAIA expressly provides that the information does not need to be provided.

This PAIA manual (“Manual”) sets out the records held by Optima Vibe (Pty) Ltd and the process that needs to be adopted to access such records.

All requests for access to information (other than information that is available to the public) must be addressed to the Information Officer named in section 2 of this Manual.

Optima Vibe (Pty) Ltd is a travel management company and provides travel services to individuals and corporates. Travel services include flights, accommodation, car hire and related services.

7. Section 51(1)(e): Form of request

A person who wishes to request information (“Requester”) must comply with all the procedures set out in PAIA. The Requester must complete the prescribed access request form.

Here is a link to the prescribed access request form:

https://www.justice.gov.za/forms/paia/J752_paia_Form%20C.pdf

A copy is also attached.

Fees are payable by a Requester to access information. Here is a link to the applicable fees:

<https://www.sahrc.org.za/home/21/files/PAIA%20Notice%20on%20fees.pdf>

A copy of the fees schedule is also attached.

7.1. Completion of Access Request Form

The access request form must be submitted to the Information Officer at the postal or physical address, fax number or electronic mail as is stated in this Manual.

The request fee must also be paid.

The access request form must be completed with enough detail to enable the Information Officer to determine:

- The record(s) requested;
- The identity of the Requester;
- What form of access is required; and
- The postal address or fax number of the Requester

The Requester must state that the records are required for the Requester to exercise or protect a right, and clearly state what the nature of the right is to be exercised or protected and why the records requested are required to exercise or protect that right.

7.2. Procedure

The request for access will be dealt with within 30 days from date of receipt, unless the Requestor has set out special grounds that satisfy the Information Officer that the request be dealt with sooner.

The period of 30 days may be extended by not more than 30 additional days, if the request is for a large quantity of information, or the request requires a search for information held at another office of the Company and the information cannot be reasonably obtained within 30 days. The Information Officer will notify the Requester in writing should an extension be necessary.

The Requester will be informed in writing whether access to the records has been granted or denied.

It is important to note that the successful completion and submission of an access request form does not automatically allow the Requester access to the requested record. An application for access to a record is subject to certain limitations if the requested record falls within a certain category as set out in Part 3 Chapter 4 of PAIA.

Examples of grounds where a company can refuse a request for access include: protection of trade secrets, protection of confidential information, protection of third party rights or confidentiality, privilege in legal proceeding, copyright and other intellectual property laws, requests that are clearly frivolous.

Should a request for information be refused, the decision made by the Information Officer is final, but the Requester has a right to apply to court for appropriate relief.
